

Political Science: International Relations – Global and Regional Perspective, BA programme (I level, 6 semesters)

A graduate should have an interdisciplinary knowledge in the field of political science and international relations, particularly in the area of international economic, social, political and legal issues. A graduate should be able to analyse attitudes and behaviours of participants of political processes and their mutual relations and interactions with other subjects of social life and have knowledge and skills allowing him/her to make independent analyses and syntheses of processes occurring in public life. He/she should know the theory and practice of international relations, as well as the theory and practice of political and economic decision-making. A graduate should have developed habits of life-long education and professional development and be prepared to take up research challenges and to continue education to the second study level (MA).

Payment 12 600 zł/year

Contact: Dr. Maciej Hartlinski, E-mail: maciej.hartlinski@uwm.edu.pl